

The Journey Of A CU Student

In the hallowed halls of Covenant University, where spirituality intertwines with academia, I embarked on a transformative journey. Before my arrival, the whispers of those who had walked these paths echoed in my ears—keywords that would soon become my lexicon.

Spirituality: The heartbeat of CU, it permeates every corner. Chapel services, pre-service prayers, and solemn communion gatherings—the rhythm of faith pulsates through our veins.

White Bus: A chariot, shuttling across campus, ensuring discipline.

Doc Martens: Sturdy companions, worn by students striding purposefully. Each scuff tells a story.

Starch: It stiffens our shirts.

Pastors: Guiding lights, their words like compass needles pointing toward purpose. Their presence, a steady anchor.

And then, I stepped into this sanctum, and new words unfurled like banners:
